Dear Parents

To bring our fantastic Great Fire of London topic to an end we would like to celebrate with an activity day based around this theme. The event will be held on Thursday, 7th November 2019.

On the morning of the 7th, an artist will come into school and help the children create an individual Fire of London scene using felt. They will also bake bread (reminding the children the fire started in the bakery)! They will then learn to write with a quill and ink. For this reason, we ask for a voluntary contribution of £6.00 per child to buy the resources, pay the artist and the ingredients.

In the afternoon, we are going to take our Great Fire of London half-term homework houses (more to follow on that) to the fire pit in Forest Schools and set them alight. We will discuss the weather conditions which contributed to the fire. This activity will be undertaken according to Forest School rules about fires and the children will be carefully supervised. They will also have the chance to eat their bread roll. They will have other activities related to the Great Fire of London during the afternoon. Please can the children wear clothes suitable for our outside Forest School activities as well as our morning craft/baking sessions.

Please can you let me know by completing the slip below if you would be available in the morning of the 7th to help with the activities. I will contact you to confirm timings.

Any food allergies or dietary restrictions which may impact on the bread your child can taste also need to be written on the slip below.

Please return the completed slip and payment by Thursday, 24th October 2019.

Kind Regards
Lucia White
